PATHWAY STRUCTURE

AUSTRALIAN PADEL TOUR 2026

NATIONAL SERIES

FIP (Federación Internacional de Pádel)

FIP tournaments are officially sanctioned by the International Padel Federation (FIP) and form part of the global professional and amateur padel circuit. These events provide Australian players with the opportunity to earn international ranking points and compete on the world stage, contributing to Australia's growing international presence in padel.

Australian Padel Tour (APT)

The Australian Padel Tour is the national elite circuit, showcasing Australia's best players. It provides a structured pathway for both Open and Masters (35+) competitors, offering national ranking points and recognition across multiple divisions:

National 1000 (Open)

National 1000 events are the premier Open tournaments in Australia, attracting the country's top players and offering the highest ranking points and prize money within the Open category.

National 500 (Open)

National 500 events form the core Open series, providing high-level competition for advanced and aspiring national-level players. They serve as key ranking events and are hosted across major clubs nationwide.

Masters 1000

The Masters 1000 tournaments are the top-tier 35+ events, featuring the best senior players in Australia. These tournaments offer the highest ranking points and prize money within the Masters category.

Masters 500

The Masters 500 events are mid-tier 35+ tournaments, providing accessible and competitive opportunities for players looking to gain ranking points, improve match play, and participate in high-quality events within the Masters tour.

AUSTRALIAN CLUB PADEL TOUR 2026

Australian Club Padel Tour (ACPT)

The Australian Club Padel Tour is an entry national series connecting local padel communities through regular, accessible club-based tournaments. Events cater to a range of divisions and experience levels, providing competitive and social opportunities for club players nationwide.

AUSTRALIAN YOUTH PADEL 2026

Australian Youth Padel (AYP)

Australian Youth Padel initiatives will focus on player development, match experience, and progression opportunities within a supportive and structured environment, leading toward state, national, and future international representation.
